REMEMBERING Cooky

Cooky now is back to heaven with Toby, Mimi-jan, Shin-Shin and Dou-Dou. I tried to announce this as a happy news, because Cooky is flying high and free, and I am happy for her, but for those who know me, you know my heart shattered into pieces and Cooky took one with her. The void is always there so that there is always a spot left in my heart for Cooky to sit on, that's kinda thing she would do. LOL. I am a very blessed person to have Cooky in my life to rich my life, and I am graceful that she chose me to spend her life with. She made me happy and made people around her happy, too. Cooky got so much love from you all and she just wanted to say "Thank you!" Cooky set fourth her next journey. I will be stronger lived from those precious memories you gave me. Until we meet again, Cooky! Thank you for all staffs at Pet Memories. Your professional assistance and comforting talks sooth the process.
