REMEMBERING Moses

To our beloved Moses, you will always be our little boy, as much as a 135lb Rhodesian can be. You were the wingman for your Daddy's recovery from cancer and Mom's security blanket whenever Dad was not around. Your acceptance of new brothers and sisters in the house and greeting new folks with your boundless enthusiasm and loving heart will always be remembered by the hundreds of folks and the four-legged brothers and sisters you met in your life. Growing up with your best buds (Shorty Bang Bang, Evil One and Demon Seed), sharing water balloon fights in the back yard, ice cream at Carters, Christmas and birthdays, showing them that a big dog can be a cupcake, gives all of us the fondness of memories. Your impact with friends and neighbors, such as getting invitations to parties (without us), will always be a source of pride for us as loving parents, as your gentle and affectionate nature drew folks to you. We will always love you Moses and with some of your ashes being shared with your best buds in New England, you will never be forgotten and always "be home". Thank you to Pet Memories for your kindness in this, the toughest of times for our family. We all love you, Rest in Peace Baby Boy.
