REMEMBERING Paige Rios

Your beautiful soul will forever be missed, having you here earth side and being your humans is one of the most exquisite things that we will ever experience. You touched each one of our lives in immeasurable amounts. Feeling your warm licks and soft fur brought feelings of relief that we will cherish, we will miss looking into your big brown loving eyes and feeling you underneath the covers right by our side as we sleep. You touched our hearts in so many ways and we will never be the same now that your gone, but we are joyous that you are free from the pain you felt while here. We will meet again, our hearts will silently yearn for that day. But until then you will always be in our thoughts and in our hearts. Rest Easy, The Sweetest Puppy We Ever Knew
