REMEMBERING Polo

9 years ago, I didn't realize how you would change my life and everything around me. You instantly stole my heart and taught me how to love unconditionally. And since, I've love and taken care of you and in turn you did the same and more for me. You are and will always be my Lil Stink, Moonk. You are my little Simba with your Mufasa personality! I will always love you, and nothing or no one could ever replace you. You touched the heart of everyone you came in contact with, whether you liked them or barked them off lol! I'm going to miss coming home to you greeting me everyday the most and all of the fun times we shared. I Love You Polo~ Always
