

Rocky Espinoza

February 7, 2012 - January 15, 2026

Fate was the deciding factor for Rocky and I to meet in this lifetime—An unexpected encounter that turned into almost 14-beautiful blissful years of joy.

We basically grew up together. We were there to witness each others monumental changes. A unique privilege that I will forever cherish.

It honestly slips your mind that one day your best buddy will not be here because like many I ignored the inevitable, and rather focused on living in the moment.

I can't pinpoint a favorite memory. They're quite frankly all my favorite. Rocky was a sassy, unapologetic, rambunctious character.

Yet, in the same breath he was selfless; Protective of my family and I, and always unwaveringly loyal. Expecting nothing in return (Well maybe only food. If you know, you know.)

The pain can't be explained, and I doubt it will ever truly heal, but in a heartbeat I'd choose Rocky again, and again.

In whatever afterlife or alternative timeline.

Thank you Rocky for being the best doggo in the world. I will always remember your bark, your bravado, and your beautiful benevolence.

My words to him: “You weren’t always a good boy, but you were my boy, and that’s what makes you a great boy.”

Bittersweet Farewell To My Rock, My Dearest Rocky.
