REMEMBERING Sara

Our sweet Sara Bear. Oh how I miss you already. So smart, so sassy, so needy, so beautiful and the best dog ever. You will always be so special and forever in my heart. My pain is deep and my heart heavy with knowing you won't be in your favorite spot sleeping or following me through the house. You ran the entire household, everyone...older, bigger dogs included catering to you. What will we do without your shrill bark at the pizza man, or your endless need for hugs and kisses. Such a lovebug. The tears continue to flow at the thought of seeing you for the last time, there is never enough time.. You lived a wonderful long life, but it still wasn't enough for me. I wanted more time with you. I long for one more smooch on your little nose. But, your body just would not allow it. I know you are in heaven now, with no pain and feeling like a young pup. I know Grandpa was there to greet you and you are probably in his lap now. I will not forget all the love and joy you brought to our lives. You are one very loved Fur Baby. Our Fur Baby. Our Sara Bear. Rest in peace sweet girl. You are forever in our hearts and we will be thinking of you always.
