

Socrates Jackson

March 1, 2009 - May 8, 2026

Socrates, our beloved "Soc," gave us 17 years of love, loyalty, and companionship. He found joy in sunbathing, chasing squirrels, and enjoying his favorite treats-- especially bacon. His Blue's Clues toy and red and white chew toy were always close by.

Soc was more than a pet-he was family. He filled our days with comfort and our hearts with unconditional love.

Run free, Soc. You will always be loved and never forgotten.

“ Soc wasn't just a pet, he was a major part of the Jackson family. I was his uncle Ricky and he knew it. Every time I came over he would run to the door barking with excitement!! I would bend down and rub him and speak to him and he would wag that tail with joy!! I'll always love his little fluffy self. When eating at the dinner table, he would sit there waiting for me to give him something. Even though I wasn't suppose to give him anything, how could I resist when looking into his beautiful black eyes. Uncle will always love my little Sockie Rockie!❤️🙏😊

“ My sweet Socrates, mommy misses you so much. I’m going to miss hearing your little paws tip-tapping on the floor, those Frito feet, and our snuggles. You brought our family so much love and joy. Run free and chase those squirrels, my sweet baby. Love you always — Mom 💔🐾

“ Soc has been in the family for over 17 yrs I'm going to miss the times I pull up and you would meet us at the door excited, barking, and sniffing. And the times I came over and you would sit by the table waiting for food to drop with those cute puppy eyes and I couldnt resist dropping table food when no one was looking. You will definitely be missed 😭, May you rest peacefully and we love you forever Socrates Jackson 🐾
Sincerely,
Your big sister Tiffany

Socrates was lucky to have you as his family to give him the love and care he deserved. You gave him all of the peace and comfort he needed and he had more love than other dogs could dream of. I hope all of your happy memories with Soc bring you comfort during this time. Sending you all lots of Love. Lindsey
